When is the compliance period to declare for

For Declaration of Compliance in 2021

Tissue banks indicating	Start Date	End Date
It has commenced tissue banking activity before 1 Nov 2019, i.e. before the human tissue framework was activated	1 Nov 2019	31 Dec 2020
It has intention to commence tissue banking activity on/before 31 Dec 2020	Commencement date indicated in the notification of operation	31 Dec 2020

How much is the declaration

Second Schedule of HBR (Tissue Banking) Regulations

During the compliance period	Storing or supplying tissue for use in research involving human tissue transplantation	Not storing or supplying tissue for use in research involving human tissue transplantation
First tissue bank site	$4,000	$1,000
Each additional site	$500 per site	$500 per site

Where tissue is stored at 2 or more premises located within the same building (bearing the same postal code in each premises' address) and under the supervision and control of a single tissue bank, these premises are counted as a single tissue bank site.

What is a tissue bank site to be declared

- Where tissue banking activities are carried out in the premises that are under your tissue bank's governance, it will be considered a tissue bank site
- If your tissue banking activities are conducted at 2 or more premises located within the same building (bearing the same postal code), these premises are counted as a single tissue bank site
- Where tissue banking activities are conducted at residential homes or shopping centres, these public places need not be declared as a site. Nonetheless, the tissue bank should always have supervision and control over all the tissue banking activities conducted regardless of whether the premises have been declared as sites during the declaration of compliance. Regulatory audits may also take place in any premises where tissue banking activities are carried out, regardless of declaration.
- Where tissue banking activities are conducted at an academic institution with multiple faculties/schools, each faculty/school may declare as one site (i.e. even if the faculty/school is spread over multiple buildings with different postal codes)

Who can submit declaration

For Declaration of Compliance

- For OE/OA who is also the principal person in charge, you can submit the declaration directly to MOH in TIARAS
- For OE/OA who is not the principal person in charge, you would need to upload a signed Declaration from the principal person in charge if you would like to submit the Declaration directly to MOH in TIARAS
